Festival of the Sea, 8/30-9/1

Festival Of The Sea

The popular annual Festival of the Sea at the National Maritime Museum with its picturesque historic ships will take place during the Labor Day Weekend, Aug. 30-Sept. 1, this year.

The colorful festival which is free to the public will be presented each day from 11AM to 5PM at the Museum Building and at the Hyde Street Pier in Aquatic Park of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

Activities will include the sharing of oral history, panel discussion, concerts, demonstrations, workshops, lectures, exhibits, presentations of sea poetry, plays and films.

The annual three day event is being planned by the newly-formed Maritime Humanities Center, a project funded from a grant by the National Endowment for the Humanities and sponsored by the Fort Mason Foundation in cooperation with the GGNRA.

Men and women whose lives were profoundly touched by various aspects of the sea will tell their stories. Concerts & workshops will feature outstanding performers of sea music. Many participants will be representatives of the ethnic communities that make up the unique heritage of the West Coast. Bay Area residents will also demonstrate the art of making knots, ditty bags, rope mats, mending fish nets and canvas.

Sea literature will include the plays of O'Neill, the poetry of Frenau, Whitman, Melville & Conrad. For further information call the Museum at 556-6435.

1980 China Exhibition

Lush cashmeres and sophisticated computers, charming toys & machine tools for light industry, tinned delicacies & magnificent antiquities from the great dynasties — these and 20,000 other items will be on exhibit at the first official Exhibition of the People's Republic of China.

The world premiere of this historic event will be held in San Francisco at Fort Mason Sept. 13-28, with later showings in Chicago & New York. Here, the best of China, from its regal past to its compelling present, will be offered in a vast, 150,000-sq.ft. presentation.

"The government of China has specially selected every item to make their re-introduction to the United States an unforgettable event," according to Philip Evans, western regional manager. "This is the real lifting of the bamboo curtain; the first large scale exposure of Chinese commerce and culture to the American people. The Chinese are laying the groundwork for substantial increases in trade between our two countries, to earn dollars so they can buy what they need from us.

The exhibition will be open to the public from noon until 9PM, each day except Sat. when it stays open until 10PM.

Because only 20,000 people a day can comfortably see the Exhibition, ticket orders will be handled in much the same manner as those for the recent King Tut exhibit. Tickets can be obtained at Emporium Capwell stores beginning July 23rd (cash only). The public may select the exact hours and days they wish to attend. Orders will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis.

For ticket information call 397-1010. For group sales & exhibit info call 391-4558. Tickets are $4.50 weekdays, $5.50 weekends, with a special rate of $2.50 for children 3-12, and for seniors 65 and over, and for the handicapped.

Children's Film Workshop

The Children's Film Workshop is continuing its intensive summer session every weekday from 10AM to 12:30PM at Fort Mason Center, Building D. This is the only film workshop for youngsters in the Bay Area, and charges a nominal fee of $3 per session. This is very inexpensive child-care.

The Workshop is conducted by John Marsic, Bonnie Borucki and Herman Berlandt of the Poetry Film Workshop Staff. This creative summer program teaches the fundamentals of filmmaking with an emphasis on animation. Children keenly appreciate the control they gain over the process in a relatively short time. They do their own graphics, use their own poems or stories as scenarios, record their own narration, learn to control the camera and lighting, and do their own editing under the guidance and advice of the staff. They each work on their own project or choose a companion to work with.

They get to see the results of their effort a few days later, and thereby improve their works-in-progress. The youngsters may start at any time and are not obligated to attend more classes than they wish. Snacks and refreshments are served during a short break. Call 921-4470 for reservations and for more details.

Pacific States Crafts Fair

The fifth Pacific States Crafts Fair, a nationally acclaimed exposition of contemporary Crafts, and the largest show of its kind presented annually on the West Coast, will be held at Fort Mason Center, Piers 2 & 3, on Friday, Saturday & Sunday, August 8, 9, & 10 from 10:00AM to 6:00PM each day.

Sponsored by the American Craft Council, 325 artisans have been chosen to exhibit in the 1980 show from 800 applicants by an official committee of crafts people and recognized craft authorities. Though most of the works selected are by artists from the Western States, the previously regional competition was open this year to the entire country.

One of the big draws to this event is the growing number of crafts people in the Western United States, particularly in California, and the continuous turnover of those who want to exhibit. The Pacific States Crafts Fair attempts to round up the best of these artists with fresh and exciting pieces that would never be seen in any other market.

As always, pottery, porcelain, earthenware and ceramics will be included in the Fair, but this year the focus is on sculpture. The same is true of hand blown, etched and stained glass items, which are no longer designed as merely functional items but as art to be displayed in prominent places.

Wood in the form of intricate boxes, fine wood furniture and wood sculpture will be ever prevalent. And there is a noticeable increase in the basket form, not only by weavers but also by clay, glass & leather artisans.

The Pacific Coast Crafts Fair will be open exclusively to buyers on August 6th & 7th. Pre-registration is recommended. Admission to the public is $2.00, including tax. Children under 12 will be admitted with charge. Free shuttle bus from Crissy Field to Fort Mason Center. For further information contact: Ida Brown, 673-2201.
